VOL. XXVII.

STANFORD, KY., FRIDAY, APRIL 29, 1898.

NO. 16

CHURCH CHATTER.

The Western Recorder is now printed with new type and its appearance is greatly improved.

The Mt. Xenia Christian Endeavor Society will meet for reorganization at 3:30 Sunday afternoon, May 1st.

The National Holiness Association will hold a convention at Bowling Green, May 23-31. Those interested can address the Rev. W. B. Burton, Bowling Green, Ky.

Rev. L. H. Blanton, chancellor of Central University, Richmond, delivered the baccalaureate sermon before the graduating class of the Louisville Presbyterian Theological Seminary, numbering 49, Sunday.

The general assembly of the Cumberland Presbyterian church will open its session at Marshall, Mo., May 19, at which time also the general assembly of the Northern branch of the Presbyterian church will meet at Warsaw, Ind., and that of the Southern branch at New Orleans.

There will be no dinner on the grounds at the dedication of the Baptist church at Preachersville Sunday, but the people of that section will take care of all visitors. The services will begin tomorrow, when the pastor, Rev. R. B. Mahony, will preach. Preaching will begin promptly at 10 Sunday morning.

Quite an unusual and happy event was the baptism of Bro. G. W. Brooks by his son, Rev. J. P. Brooks, at East Baptist church, this city, last Sunday night. Bro. Brooks is in his 74th year and was recently happily converted. To him and his aged companion have been born 14 children, nine of whom are living. There were four daughters and 10 sons, two of whom are Baptist ministers. He was the last of the family to profess faith in Christ.—Baptist Recorder.

NEWS IN THE VICINAGE.

R. B. Craft, of Manchester, is raising a company to go to the war.

Col. Jack Chinn has notified Gov. Bradley that he will raise a regiment of cavalry for service in Cuba.

W. D. Covert, father of W. S. and J. C. Covert, died at Junction City, aged 72. A wife also survives him.

Capt. J. C. Bryant, a grandson of the late Hiram Roberts, of Crab Orchard, is raising a company of cavalry at Lexington for the war.

Capt. Ulysses S. Grant Perkins, who received a commission from Gov. Bradley to captain a company which he organized at Harboursville, is ready to march his men into service.

Cosby N. Green, of Junction City, got the suit of clothes, etc., offered by "The Globe" for the first Boyle county man to regularly enlist in the army.

Capt. W. E. Grubbs, of Boyle, who was captain in Stonewall Jackson's brigade, Confederate army, is raising a company to respond to a second call for volunteers.

Walter Saunders Hlatt, a young Lexington newspaper man, has gone to Norfolk, Va., to enter the navy. He has served in Company E., Kentucky State Guard and is a son of the late Hiram Hlatt, of this county.

This item from Richmond recalls a project thought to be dead: A corps of engineers for the proposed Black Diamond railroad has begun surveying a route through Estill county to the Eastern Kentucky coal fields.

ALL QUIET IN CLAY.

BUT RENEWAL OF HOSTILITIES HOUS-
LY EXPECTED.

Writing from the home of his old friend, Gen. T. T. Garrard, of Manchester, Rev. Wood Lytle, says:

The war between the Howards and Bakers has abated for the present. We are looking every hour for an outbreak. Wooten is still alive, but with no hopes of recovery. Baker, who shot him, has not been arrested. The Howards have not been seen for 10 days and supposed that they are in hiding for the Bakers. The Bakers are at home, but looking for an attack every day. All parties are afraid to stir and people in general are afraid to step out at night, for fear they will be suspected of being friendly with one side or the other and be shot down.

The county is in a dreadful state of affairs and all the talk now here is about the Cuban or Baker and Howard wars, but the most talk is about the latter. I some time wish I was sheriff of this county so I could show the people how quick I could bring such men to justice. They would have to leave this county or roost in tall timber. If I had my way I would send them every one to Cuba and make them fight, where they would be most likely to get killed.

I preached at Burning Springs last Sunday at noon and night to good crowds and I think gave satisfaction. I will commence a meeting next Thursday at Ellis Branch, where all the Bakers and Howards live and see what I can do for them.

The superior court of Missouri has decided that the use of the word damn is not swearing.

LANCASTER.

Mesdames J. R. Mount, of LaGrange, and J. T. McRoberts, of Pineville, are guests of Mrs. R. E. McRoberts.

The lots on East Public Square, belonging to Owsley and Shanks, of Stanford, were put up separately and together on Monday, and the only bid made was $300 for the lot on the corner of Richmond Avenue and the Square.

On Wednesday Capt. Duncan received orders to have his men, who volunteered, examined. Dr. J. B. Kinnaird began the work and they are being examined as they come to town. Requirements are as follows: Chest expansion must be over two inches; height not less than 5 feet 4 inches nor more than 6 feet 4 inches; action of heart and lungs must be clear and regular. About 50 have been examined to this writing. Thursday morning, only four being rejected. Six came from Richmond and stood the examination. It will be one of the best companies in the service.

On Tuesday night at 8 o'clock, Lem White, colored, aged 15 years, shot his stepfather, Charles Anderson, a "Battle Row" Negro, in the bowels with a ball fired from a 38 Bull Dog pistol. It is thought that the ball ranged around a rib and did not enter the bowels, though it is a dangerous wound. The boy went to Jailor Ross and delivered himself to be locked up. He claims that Anderson was whipping his mother when he fired, and it is believed that he will be acquitted. As this is the third Negro that has been shot here in a short time it is hoped that we will have a rest, as troubles of a kind, always come by threes.

On Monday evening about 7 o'clock, Porter Wearen, of McCreary, shot and mortally wounded Grant Leavel, colored, of Buckeye. The trouble occurred in Logantown, this city, and the weapon used was a 45 Colt's pistol, the ball entering the bowels and passing through, severed the spinal cord. Leavel died Tuesday morning and a coroner's inquest revealed the foregoing statements as true. Constable Hammond arrested Wearen and lodged him in jail. On Tuesday a preliminary trial was set for next Saturday and he was allowed a guard until that time. There are conflicting statements about the causes which led to the killing. The defense, R. H. Tomlinson, L. L. Walker and J. I. Hamilton, will attempt to prove that Leavel was striking Wearen's brother with a stick, when the shot was fired.

A large crowd was in town Monday, though but little business was transacted and but few sales of stock were made. Politics and war were the principal subjects of conversation. Five horses were sold at $35 to $115. Several fine horses were on exhibition, among them: M. S. Baughman's Ozdenburg; Herndon & McElwaine's Duke of Denmark and Cerro Gordo; Bacher Bros'. Line Denmark; T. O. Hill's Walking Chester and Hamilton & Robinson's Jesse Wilkes. Rallying war speeches were made in the forenoon by Gov. McCreary and Hon. G. G. Gilbert which, with the drum and fife, fired the spirit of patriotism and by night Capt. Sam McKee Duncan succeeded in enrolling 160 valiant men in his company of volunteers. He has received information that his company will be enlisted in the 2d Regiment, under Col. Gaither, and the boys expect to be ordered out in a few days. The company is made up of good material and the boys will realize the truth of this assertion, if they ever meet them on the field. Dr. H. M. Grant has sent a long petition and a number of letters to Gov. Bradley asking that he be made surgeon for the second regiment. He is altogether competent. Lincoln county furnishes 16 men to Capt. Duncan's company.

On Monday afternoon a large crowd assembled in the court-house to hear the candidates for the democratic nomination for Congress present their claims, which they did in a manner entirely satisfactory to themselves, and, in some instances, to the people. They spoke in the following order—Hons. G. G. Gilbert and John B. Thompson, then Gov. McCreary, Mr. Rothwell not being present. Everything went off quietly and the speakers were applauded by their supporters. Mr. Gilbert, who is comparatively a stranger here, made a good impression and many believe that he will have a good following. He claimed that, if nominated, he would be sure to defeat Davison. He and Mr. Thompson attempted to show that a part of Gov. McCreary's record was not in line with the party, but the governor fully explained that he always acted in conformity to the principles of the party as promulgated at the time, and that he has stood squarely on every platform since he was in public life, asserting that in 15 minutes after receiving the news of the nomination of Mr. Bryan, he made a speech declaring his intention to support him, and his willingness to stand on the platform.

The democrats of this county, who know him and his record, are in the majority, and it is confidently asserted that, if the time should come when Mr. Rothwell's claims are withdrawn, he will receive the support of the Garrard delegation. This is the opinion of those who generally predict correctly regarding such matters. Let us have no party factions and nominate the man who can defeat any republican and redeem the district.

POLITICAL POINTS.

It is said that Congressman D. G. Colson, of the 11th district, will not run again next fall, having accepted a majorship in the Second Regiment. This would leave Judge Boreling, of Laurel, a clear field to date.

Gov. Bradley has appointed A. T. Wood and O. H. Waddell to act as judges of the appellate court in places of Judges Hazelrigg and Chief Justice Lewis in the trial of the case of Stone, Auditor, vs. Pryor for increase of salary after the adoption of the constitution.

Congressman D. H. Smith has been declared the democratic nominee for re-election in the Fourth district, in accordance with the rule adopted by the Democratic District Committee, that if by the 20th of April there was only one candidate he should be declared the nominee.

It seems to be the plan of the opposition to McCreary to bring out a candidate in each county and then trust to a combination to effect his defeat. It is a well conceived scheme, but it will not work. The race for Congress is made up, and the result will be McCreary first, "the others also ran."—Richmond Register.

The nomination of W. R. Day, of Canton, O., to be Secretary of State was promptly confirmed. He is a personal friend of President McKinley, and has served as Assistant Secretary of State during McKinley's administration, and has had charge of the diplomatic negotiations which have culminated in the present war with Spain. John B. Moore, of New York, succeeds Day as assistant secretary. He is a professor of law at Columbia College.

LAND AND STOCK.

May wheat went up to $1.25 at Chicago Tuesday.

Annie Taylor ran third for her new owner at Newport Monday.

F. Reid refused $1 for his crop of 5,000 bushels of wheat yesterday.

John T. Gay, of Woodford, sold his crop of 75 acres of growing wheat at 75c.

James Messer sold to George L. Carpenter a fancy combined brown mare for $140.

R. H. Bronaugh started Flyer and Oriental at Newport Tuesday, but neither was placed.

Thomas Reynolds bought in Pulaski and Wayne a bunch of heifers at 34c and some steers at 4c.

C. D. Chennault sold to Waller Chennault 50 two-year-old cattle at $34.—Richmond Pantagraph.

O. P. Huffman bought of John W. Stephenson some butcher stuff at 3.65 and some of A. W. Carpenter at 3c.

Alonso Mackin, a stable boy, was thrown from a colt and killed while exercising at Churchill Downs, Louisville.

J. W. Bales has sold Cerro Gordo and two other saddlers for $5,240, the first named bringing $2,500.—Richmond Climax.

J. C. Bond and W. F. Lillard will ship about 500 hogs at the Dowling distillery. They are buying these hogs at 3c.—Lawrenceburg News.

Anderson Carr's Happy Day brood mare has foaled a fine colt by Cecilian, a son of the great Gambetta Wilkes. He has named the youngster William Edwin.

WANTED—A combined saddle and harness horse or mare, not over 6 years old, must be a good saddle and gentle driver, not afraid of cars. Address Dr. J. Givens, Pittsburg, Ky.

Silver Tip, the saddle stallion, once owned by Bazley Bros., and for which they refused $1,000, was sold by W. J. Mason, of this county, to Wm. Cooper, of Somerset, for $40. He is totally blind now.

The Richmond Register reports 350 cattle on the market at Winchester Monday. Prices ranged from 24 to 5c, the latter figure being received by G. E. Black, of this county, for a bunch of 20 good steers. Mr. Black also sold 25 700-pound steers at $33. Mules brought $100 to $125.

Harper & Powell, of the West End, sold to C. R. Carson a four-year-old mare mule for $100 and a six-year-old horse mule to E. W. Lee for $80 and a three-year-old to Pipes, of Casey, for $80. They bought of Rinearson & Purdy, of Casey, a bunch of hogs at 3c. They sold Allen & Lyon a bunch at 3c.

I was reading an advertisement of Chamberlain's Cough, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy in the Worcester Enterprise recently, which leads me to write this. I can truthfully say I never used any remedy equal to it for colic and diarrhoea. I have never had to use more than one or two doses to cure the worst case with myself or children.—W. A. STROUT, Popponoke City, Md. For sale by CRAIG & HOCKER, Druggists.

MATRIMONIAL MATTERS.

RITCHIE-MENEFFEE—The young lady, who denied to us so emphatically over the telephone Monday the report that she was to be married the following evening, went and got married all the same, feeling doubtless that fibbing under such circumstances is excusable. At 8:15 Tuesday evening at the residence of her parents, Mayor and Mrs. J. N. Menefee, Miss Anna Menefee, their highly accomplished and popular daughter, was led to the altar by Mr. E. B. Ritchie, late of Tennessee, but now a practicing attorney at Frankfort, Texas. The parlor was nicely decorated and in the presence of the immediate family and a few other friends the vows were taken, Rev. J. B. Crouch, officiating, and Mrs. Crouch furnishing the music. Mr. R. M. Newland and Miss Bessie Menefee were the attendants and after a delightful supper, drove with the newly wedded to Junction City, where the latter took the train for their home in the Lone Star State, to stop en route at New Orleans and other principal cities. The bride is the eldest daughter in a very excellent family and is a very lovable and attractive young lady, while the groom, who a few years ago read law under Hill & McRoberts, and obtained license, is a man of fine habits and bids fair to make reputation and money in his profession. Their many friends here unite in warmest congratulations and wish the couple a life of unalloyed happiness.

G. C. Baker and Miss Allie Haley, both of this county, were married at W. L. Seeby's yesterday.

Thomas Jones, aged 17, and Miss Matilda Hendricks, 16, eloped from Hillsboro, O., and were married.

George Miles and his sweetheart Miss Birdie Fox, quarreled at Oshkosh, Wis., and he shot her to death, afterwards ending his own miserable life.

Alex Smith, aged 17, of Casey, and Miss May B. Bastin, the 19-year-old daughter of Mrs. Henry T. Bastin, of this county, were married at the courthouse by Judge James P. Bailey yesterday.

The engagement of Miss Carrie Wallace Boone and Mr. J. Stone Walker, of Richmond, is being discussed with much interest in society. The date of the marriage has not yet been fixed. An announcement is expected soon.—Louisville Times.

Thomas Howell, of Indianapolis, took morphine with suicidal intent because his girl went back on him. A few seconds afterward he telephoned for a physician, who saved him by hard work. The next day he ended his existence by shooting himself through the head.

The marriage of Mr. Thomas Floyd Smith and Miss Mary Bruce was celebrated at the home of the bride's parents, Judge and Mrs. Horatio W. Bruce, of 1509 Third Avenue, Louisville, Tuesday. Mr. Bruce is chief attorney for the L. & N. and is a relative of Mrs. W. O. Hansford and others in this section.

A FURTHER REDUCTION.—The Chesapeake & Ohio has made a further reduction in the rate to Norfolk for the Southern Baptist Convention. The round trip rate from Lexington will be $13.50, good going and returning all rail direct, and $17 round trip, good going or returning via Washington and the Potomac river steamers. This rate includes steamer transportation. A special train will leave Lexington on Tuesday, May 31 at 4 P. M., reaching Norfolk at 2 P. M. next day. Tickets will also be on sale May 29 to May 31, good to return 15 days, with privilege of a further extension of 15 days by depositing tickets with C. & O. agent in Norfolk. The C. & O. has two limited vestibuled trains daily, and is shortest line to Norfolk. For further information address G. W. Barney, D. P. A., Lexington, Ky.

Asked if he would go to the war Gov. Bradley said: "My physical condition will not permit my going, but should foreign forces invade our land I would go and fight at all hazards."

The court of appeals sustains the lower court in the local option contest at Somerset, which is a victory for the temperance people.

The Suburban Stakes, worth $1,500, was won by Lieber Karl, the favorite, at Memphis Tuesday.

The Mt. Sterling Gazette thinks this a good time for Gen. Coxey and his army to come to the front.

The post-office department has issued an order that no more Spanish mails will be dispatched.

"A word to the wise is sufficient" and a word from the wise should be sufficient, but you ask who are the wise? Those who know. The oft-repeated experience of trustworthy persons may be taken for knowledge. Mr. W. M. Terry says Chamberlain's Cough Remedy gives better satisfaction than any other in the market. He has been in the drug business at Elkton, Ky., for twelve years; has sold hundreds of bottles of this remedy and nearly all other cough medicines manufactured, and shows conclusively that Chamberlain's is the most satisfactory to the people, and is the best. For sale by Craig & Hocker, Druggists.

SIX PAGES.

YESTERDAY'S dailies told of the bombardment of the Spanish fortifications at Matanzas by the New York, Paritan and Cincinnati, which they reduced and silenced in 18 minutes. It was provoked by continued firing at our vessels, when Admiral Sampson undertook a reconnaissance. A naval engagement in Asiatic waters is expected near Manila, where the Spanish fleet has taken position and is being approached by Commodore Dewey's squadron. Saturday is the day fixed for the establishment of a base of supplies for the Cuban sufferers and it is said the insurgents are gathering to aid the warships in the effort. Neutrality proclamations have been issued by Italy, the Netherlands, Russia, Switzerland, Norway, Sweden and Colombia. It is unofficially known that France and Great Britain have done likewise. The statement that Portugal will also issue such proclamation is discredited in our dispatches.

Matanzas, at which the first battle of the war occurred, is 52 miles from Havana and has 45,000 inhabitants. It is next to Havana in commercial importance and is a most valuable port for the U. S. to hold. It is said that many Spanish were killed and wounded by the shells, but the American vessels were unscathed. The result shows that Havana is at the mercy of our warships and that they could destroy its defenses in an hour.

A Madrid dispatch says that the Spanish fleet will not attempt to lift the blockade of Cuba, but will be used for more effective work elsewhere, which means that the merchant marine had better seek friendly ports.

Gov Bradley now has full instructions from the war department as to the organization of the militia. The number wanted is 3,246 instead of 3,800 as stated, and they must be between the ages of 18 and 45 and in physical vigor.

THE war events have been so few and of such an interesting nature for several days that they are hardly worth taxing our space. Now that war has been declared, both sides are doing the rooster act, standing off and "tending" like they are mighty anxious to jump "pon top" each other. We may hear something drape in a few days and if it does the INTERIOR JOURNAL will be the first to tell it in this section, its special correspondent being under orders to keep us posted on every important event.

DOWN South the patriotic people are falling over each other and almost fighting for the privilege of enlisting in the war against Spain, but not so in the frozen East. Massachusetts is preparing to offer a bounty of $100 to each man who enlists, while in Connecticut, a whole corps of State soldiers that were asked to volunteer, declined to a man to do so. It looks like the Southern men will do the fighting, while the Northern men will hire substitutes as before.

WITH the insurgents behind it and 22 U. S. warships in front of it, the Spanish army at Havana is occupying that narrow strip of land between the devil and the deep blue sea, or between hell and the iron works to make the simile stronger. Truly can Blanco say:

Which way I fly is hell,
Myself am hell
And in a lower depth,
A lower depth,
Still threatening to devour me
Opens wide.

THE democrats in Congress will oppose the $500,000,000 bond issue of the war revenue bill, but they should make no factious fight against it. Money has to be raised and quickly to prosecute the war and patriotic democrats should not stand in the way of it.

THE London Kentuckian is now issued twice a week and is as full of news as an egg is of meat. The days of the old weekly is numbered and soon there wont be even one to tell the tale or act as a connecting link between the slow past and the rapid present.

THERE is one thing very certain. If this state of war continues the seaside will not be popular as a summer resort this season and the pretty girls will have to seek other places for their conquests.

It is said that the Kentucky delegation will fight the increase of tax on tobacco, which would seem to be a very unpatriotic as well as an idiotic action. What would these worthies tax? The necessities of life evidently, since they oppose making the very unnecessary article of tobacco, pay its part of the war tax.

THIS office has been engaged in the very unsatisfactory and undesirable job of printing county bonds to pay for turnpikes, this week. As they run for 30 years and have 60 coupons on them for semi-annual interest, they are as large as a blanket, and printers will know the difficulty in getting good results.

GOV. BRADLEY says he is not going to call any extra session of the Legislature, to make an appropriation to equip the volunteers. The general government will do that, thank the Lord, and another infliction will be spared us.

ADDITIONAL LOCAL.

SPENCER HIGGINS, colored, who fought 18 months in the last war, is anxious to go and fight the Spanish.

THE Q. & C. will change its schedule next Sunday. It will be similar to that of last summer with improvements.

THE Old Maid's Convention—see it at Walton's Opera House, Tuesday evening, May 3d, and you'll be happy.

WOOL.—J. W. Christian & Co., thro' their agent, Wm. Moreland, will pay you the highest market price for your wool.

ALL the latest models of Paris fashions are to be exhibited at the Old Maid's Convention. There will be two gowns made by Worth.

THERE were frosts Wednesday and yesterday, with a slight showing of ice, but the damage, if any, is small. Showers were predicted for last night and probably fair today.

MCINTOSH.—Mrs. Bettie McIntosh, sister of James C. Coulter, died at Yosemite yesterday morning and will be buried at McKinney today. She leaves a husband and several children.

A NUMBER of our patriotic citizens are giving expression to their feelings by hanging out the Star Spangled Banner and old glory floats now from many a place of business along Main street.

THE Q. & C. will make a rate on its special train to Cincinnati, leaving Junction City at 6:30 Sunday morning, of $1.25 for the round-trip, on account of the game between the Reds and Pittsburgs.

THERE are fewer loafers in Stanford now than formerly, because they either had to go to work or to jail, but there is still a pretty fair sized company of them who could be spared to go and fight the Spanish.

CIRCUS.—We are to have a circus once more. Master of Trains B. N. Roller tells us that Harris' Nickle Plate show will be with us June 16th. It must be a right sharp chunk of a show too since its cars make a full train.

MISS WELLINGTON GLASCOCK is getting her 20 old maids in fine trim for the convention Tuesday night next. It is going to be mighty entertaining and amusing, so if you miss it you'll be sure to regret it. Secure a seat now.

VOLUNTEERS.—Capt. Duncan telephoned the members of his company in this county Wednesday to come to Lancaster for physical examination by Dr. J. B. Kinnaird and the following responded and passed: H. Rowan Sauley, Ashby McKee Warren, John G. Lynn, V. H. Hall, Dwight Root, Frank Lusk, Ex Reynolds and John Gill.

NARROW ESCAPE.—Miss Allie Camden, of Rowland, had a narrow escape from drowning while out with a fishing party Tuesday. She ventured out on a log over Dix River, near where the K. C. crosses that stream, and fell into the water, which is very deep. She had gone down twice and was sinking the third time when her brother, Craig Camden, swam to her rescue. She was almost exhausted when brought to shore, but soon got all right.

RECOVERED HIS WATCH.—Mr. J. Henry Fish is a very happy man. He has his gold watch back that was stolen from him at Brodhead. A Negro pawned it at Lebanon for $2.60 and the chief of police got on the fact and captured the watch, though the Negro had evaded the officer to last accounts. The notice in this paper served to secure to Mr. Fish the return of the watch, which is valued as much for its associations as its intrinsic worth.

BURGLAR CAUGHT.—Tom Payne, a half-witted youth, who lives near Kingsville, broke into G. A. Walter's store at that place the other night and stole a lot of French harps, pocket knives and candy. He effected entrance through a window and made a monster effort to get into the cash drawer, but failed. Wallace Walter played the role of detective and the boy confessed when he was confronted by that gentleman, who had considerable proof against him. Owing to his mental condition Mr. Walter declined to prosecute Payne, who is to be pitied rather than blamed, he thinks.

THE Adams Express Co., through its agent, Joe S. Rice, paid to Sheriff Owens Tuesday $378.82, franchise tax for the years 1893 to 1896.

SNAKE.—While coming to town yesterday morning David Benton, of Highland, killed a cow snake which measured over four feet in length.

ON TO CHICKAMAUGA.—The Q. & C. offers the low round trip rate to Chickamauga from Junction City, to-morrow, of $4.35. Go and see the largest number of troops massed in the U. S. since the Civil war.

UNTRUE.—Mr. A. C. Sine, who came from Cincinnati yesterday, tells us that it was reported at Junction City that James H. Carter, (Highland Jim) had killed a man of his section, who sent up a Spanish flag. We are glad to state that the report is wholly untrue.

THE jury in the case of Geo. Rowsey, for killing Francis Kizer in the courthouse at Danville last county court day hung, standing 11 for 21 years and one for two years, and were discharged. It is said that the man who hung the jury is a brother-in-law of one of the defendant's counsel. The case will be called again Tuesday.

WATCH STOLEN.—Miss Mary Harman, of the West End, was here yesterday giving Danks, the jeweler, a description of her watch and chain which was stolen a few days ago. The watch was a solid gold one and her initials, "M. E. H." were engraved on it. She thinks her house was entered, but had no knowledge of it until the watch was missed.

LOW RATES.—The L. & N. will sell round-trip tickets to Louisville May 3rd to 20th inclusive, limited to 21st, at $5.10, which includes admission to races, and will sell round-trip tickets May 4th, 11th and 19th, limited two days from date of sale, for morning trains only, at $3.55, which includes admission to races. One first-class fare for the round trip will be the rate to New Orleans May 7-9, limited 15 days, on account of annual meeting of the Elks, and to Norfolk, Va., May 2 to 6 on account of Southern Baptist Convention, limited to 15 days, and subject to extension by depositing with agent of terminal lines at Norfolk before the 16th.

FORTUNATE ESCAPE.—Wednesday morning Messrs. James A. Pickett and Hartwell Pickett, of Shelby, who are visiting Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Severance, accompanied by Mr. W. Carroll Shanks and Miss Virgie Pickett started to Crab Orchard Springs in a carriage drawn by two horses. At Needmore one of the bolts that held the pole broke and the horses keeping on, the vehicle was jerked over, tearing the top off, but strange to say the occupants were not hurt, save a few scratches received by the elder Pickett. Mr. Shanks and young Mr. Pickett were thrown out, but the other two were caught in the fall. Had the horses not been very gentle a serious, if not a fatal accident might have resulted.

BATTERIES ORDERED SOUTH.

SPANISH ADMIT NUMBER WERE WOUNDED AT MATANZAS.

PORTUGAL LIKELY TO JOIN SPAIN AGAINST US.

CHATTANOOGA, April 28.—Three batteries were hurried South from here today, believed to be the first to be sent to invade Cuba.

WASHINGTON, April 28.—Naval officers say Commodore Dewey must win battles in the Philippines or sail for San Francisco.

MADRID, April 28.—Reports admit that several were killed in bombardment of Matanzas.

KEY WEST, April 28.—Steamer Ginto with provisions and money for Havana was captured by the Terror after a solid shot had demolished her pilot house. This is a $400,000 prize.

WASHINGTON, April 28.—State troops remain at present point of rendezvous indefinitely.

No word at navy department of bombardment of Matanzas. It is thought to be bad strategy now to attack city without land forces. If shooting occurred it was simply reconnaissance. No doubt, however, that Matanzas will be seized soon.

LONDON, April 28.—It is believed here that Portugal will be Spain's ally.

Mrs. Lindsay is urging that Kentucky be allowed full regiment of cavalry.

The president is thinking of calling for 10,000 colored recruits.

The U. S. army will be recruited at once to its full war strength of 61,000.

Gov. Bradley denies that he has commissioned any officers in the K. S. G. as yet.

Gen. Lee has more than 400 applicants for his staff, some from foreign countries.

Capt. Gen. Blanco has cabled Madrid that he can defend Havana without Spanish warships.

In London it is reported that the United States has offered Greece $9,000,000 for her entire navy.

The Monitor Terror captured the Spanish steamer Ambrosio Bolivar, that had $60,000 in silver on board.

Lexington has been selected as the place of rendezvous for Kentucky soldiers, on recommendation of Gov. Bradley.

In the war department the belief is growing that the campaign proper in Cuba will not be in full operation until next fall.

Nathan M. Uri, the well-known Louisville distiller, has contributed $500 to be used in equipping the Legion for active service.

The war fever is not rampant in Connecticut. The fourth section of the Signal Corps of that State has refused to a man to volunteer.

Miss Helen Gould has offered a gift of $100,000 for national purposes to President McKinley, and says she will double the sum if necessary.

When the news of the blockade reached Havana the price of meat increased from 24 cents to 50 cents per pound. All food prices are going up.

The president hopes to starve the Spaniards into submission by a peaceful blockade instead of shooting them out of their holes, as they ought to be.

Troops continue to arrive at Chickamauga, and it is expected that 50,000 men will soon be concentrated there. Great activity prevails in the camp at Tampa.

Great Britain's proclamation of neutrality ties up in British ports the torpedo boat, Somers, and the fine cruiser, Albany, formerly the Abouéall, purchased from Brazil.

The first landing on Cuban soil was effected Sunday night by the torpedo boat, Porter, Lieut. John C. Fremontson of the "Pathfinder," commander. With a small force he went ashore in search of information and obtained it.

Gov. Taylor, of Tennessee, has sent the following to the president: "I tender my services to command the Tennessee volunteers. I have called them to leave their wives and mothers and feel it my duty to lead them on the field."

The president, by proclamation, has allowed Spanish vessels in United States waters until May 21, inclusive, for loading and departing, and Spanish ships met at sea shall be permitted to continue their voyage, if loaded before that time in the United States.

Lieut. Rowan, of the 19th infantry, under orders from the war department, has landed in Eastern Cuba, and is making his way to Gen. Garcia, to whom he will unfold the plans of the United States for co-operation with the insurgents in landing an army in Cuba.

The yellow fever in Cuba is an enemy more to be dreaded by soldiers than the Spaniards. About the first of May the rainy season sets in, when military operations could hardly be carried forward for the next five months, and then we would lose 10 men from disease to one from the guns of the Spaniards.

The ships captured are prizes of war and will be condemned as such. They and their cargoes will be sold. One-half the proceeds will go to the government and the other half to the officers and crews of the ships that seized them, the distribution to be made upon a well established scale of division.

Spain has issued a supplementary note to the Powers. It gives the causes leading to the rupture with the United States, and execrates the policy pursued by it, denouncing the "unbridled ambition" of Americans. It attacks Gen. Lee, and says the Spanish people await the consequences of war with tranquility.

There need be little fear of the Oregon getting home in safety. She has four 13-inch guns, eight 18-inch guns and 30 secondary pieces, making 46 in all, besides her torpedo tubes. Then she is probably accompanied by the powerful gunboat Marietta, carrying six rapid-fire four-inch guns and six smaller pieces.

The son of Mrs. Nellie Grant Sartoris, who is a daughter of the late president, having tendered his services to Gen. Fitzhugh Lee, a joint resolution was introduced by Congressman Pearson, of North Carolina, to readmit Mrs. Sartoris to citizenship in the United States, thus enabling her son to serve on Gen. Lee's staff. The resolution was adopted by the House.

Gen. Fitzhugh Lee, who has been studying closely the war events, believes it will be unnecessary to send a soldier now to Cuba, and thinks it extremely unlikely that a naval battle will be fought, for the reason that Spain's vessels can not afford to venture so far from the base of supplies as Cuba. His idea is that it will be a peaceful war, and that Spain will shortly evacuate Cuba.

The big Spanish steamship Panama, of the Ceballos line, which left New York on April 20 for Havana with a number of Spanish refugees on board, and a very valuable cargo, including, it is understood, stores for the Spanish army, was captured 20 miles from Havana by the little lighthouse tender Mangrove, now belonging to the Mosquito fleet. The Mangrove, mounts two six-pounders and four 38 revolvers. The Panama is of about 2,800 tons, and is a very valuable prize.

DOCTORS DON'T DENY IT.

The frank testimony of a famous physician.

When Dr. Ayer announced his Sarsaparilla to the world, he at once found the physicians his friends. Such a remedy was what they had looked for, and they were prompt to appreciate its merits and prescribe it. Perhaps no medicine known as a patent medicine—is so generally administered and prescribed by physicians as Dr. Ayer's Sarsaparilla for blood diseases, and diseases of the skin that indicate a tainted condition of the blood. Experience has proved it to be a specific in such diseases, and sores of long standing, old ulcers, chronic rheumatism, and many other like forms of disease have yielded to the persevering use of Dr. Ayer's Sarsaparilla after other medicines had utterly failed. The testimonials received from physicians to the value of this remedy would fill a volume. Here is one leaf signed by Richard H. Lawrence, M. D., Baltimore, Md.

"It affords me pleasure to bear testimony to the success which your preparation of Sarsaparilla has had in the treatment of cutaneous and other diseases arising from a vitiated condition of the blood. Were it necessary, I might give you the names of at least fifty individuals who have been cured of long-standing complaints simply by the administration of Dr. Ayer's Sarsaparilla. One very remarkable instance was that of a quack woman who had lived at Catonsville, near this city. She had been afflicted with the rheumatism for three years, and had taken as she had informed me, more than one hundred dollars' worth of medicine to obtain relief yet without any beneficial result. I advised her to try a bottle of Dr. Ayer's Sarsaparilla and told her that if it failed to do her good, I would refund the money. A short time after, I learned that it had cured her, and a neighbor of hers similarly afflicted was also entirely relieved of his complaint by its use. This is the universal result of the administration of your Sarsaparilla. It is without exception, the best blood purifier with which I am acquainted."

There is no other similar medicine can show a similar record. Others have imitated the remedy. They can't imitate the record. Dr. Ayer's Sarsaparilla has the friendship of the physician and the favor of the family, because it cures. It fulfills all promises made for it. It has healed thousands of people of the most malignant diseases that can mutilate mankind. Nothing has ever superseded it and nothing ever will until a medicine is made that can show a record of cures greater in number and equal in wonder to those wrought by Dr. Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Dr. Ayer's Cures, a story of cures told by the administration of Dr. Ayer's Sarsaparilla. One very remarkable instance was that of a quack woman who had lived at Catonsville, near this city. She had been

The Too-New Woman.
Louisville, Ky., has a brand of new women of the brand newest kind. She has advanced beyond the cigarette smoking stage, and while she does not wear divided nether garments or wear a "plug" hat, she nevertheless smokes openly on the streets of the fair southern city, and smokes a pipe at that. The Louisville Courier-Journal vouches for the fact, and tells the story thus: "About 1:30 o'clock the other afternoon a stylishly-dressed young woman, about 24 years old, passed along Fourth avenue, actually smoking a pipe. It was a dainty briar root, with silver mountings and a curved amber stem. She smoked complacently, and seemed totally unconscious that she was attracting an unusual amount of attention, not because she wore a sealskin jacket and a jaunty hat, but solely because she smoked a pipe. As she continued out Fourth avenue many people saw her and wondered, and every man who passed turned to look at her, and those whom she left behind caught a whiff of a rich aroma which demonstrated to the practised smoker that the young woman selected a good quality of tobacco."

An original style of "sore throat" is being circulated, but victims of it declare it is just as disagreeable as the old-fashioned "scratchy" kind. This particular "throat" is an unsavory lump that greatly pains the possessor, who vainly attempts getting rid of it by that simple and natural process. What sort of devilish microbe has suddenly lodged in the human system, causing this uncomfortable and distressing sensation, may be known to the medical fraternity, but no name has yet been given to it, as far as any sufferer can learn. The lay opinion is, however, this germ has been bred in dust heaps by the recent snows, and it only waited for the March winds to carry it to a place of safety to begin its "sore" career, unchecked and untrammelled by science.

A colored exhorter in the course of a sermon on "Money, the Great Evil," is quoted by the Atlanta Constitution as saying: "My brotherin, money cause mo' trouble in dis worl' dan anyting I knows on. Fac' is, de devil is in de dollar! When I see a man wid a pocket full er money I say ter myself: 'Dar's a man what needs a guarden,' an' I feels des like takin' him home en loekin' ud dat money fer him. Ef any er you in de hearin' er my voice is got money on yo' pusson, bring it right heah, en lay it on de altar, en go yo' ways, en lemme pray over it till a blessin' come ter it. Doan wait ter count it; des come forward en unload!"

The idea of selling Cuba was not always considered impossible at the Spanish court. Both Cuba and Porto Rico were secretly offered by Queen Christina to Louis Philippe about 60 years ago, and for the insignificant sum of $2,000,000. The Philippines also were tendered for a smaller sum. Tallyrand was to have had a commission of $200,000. The documents were ready, but Louis Philippe at the last insisted on a reduction, which angered the Spanish envoy, and he tore up the contract over a difference of $15,000. No doubt other nations would have objected to the sale, but the Spanish queen was ready and even anxious to effect it.

The story is going the rounds that a Florida fisherman, weary with ill-luck, pulled off his boots, stretched himself on the river's green bank, and went to sleep. An alligator in search of a dinner spied the sleeping fisherman, crawled up the bank, swallowed him and retired in good order. But after a time he remembered that the late fisherman's boots were also reposing on the bank. A dinner without dessert was no dinner at all; so he returned to taper off on the boots. But while he was in the act of swallowing them another fisherman, recently arrived, shot him dead.

Keely, of the motor, is claiming public attention again. A quarter of a century has passed since he introduced a bath-room contrivance run by a stream of water passing through a goose quill. He called it a hydro-pneumatic-pulsating-vacuo engine. It was the first of a series of machines, the latest of which is a vibrator, with tuning-fork attachments, supposed to disintegrate the air and release an etheric force. Keely has received at one time from his disciples as much as $100,000 for options and stocks. He is still on the verge of success, but not quite ready for the public demonstration.

For many years the scientists of all lands have known that gold and silver could be extracted from sea water. Now some men up in Maine have set to work at the task, and present, as indubitable proofs of their success, several hard, cold, but pleasing cones of these precious metals. They don't tell us, though, remarks the New York Times, how much the cones cost them, and until that is done the Klondike will hold its own.

A calamity like that in the harbor of Havana puts its victims on a common level. Technical and official distinctions vanish. The sailor newest to the service who perished in the destruction of the Maine is no longer classed as an ordinary seaman. He, with all the rest, belongs now to the company of those who will not be forgotten.

HYACINTH SONG.
Sing a song of hyacinths:
Larkspur's not so blue,
Never any gallant rose
Gathered from a garden-cloze
Rosier blushed than you.
Honey-colored, white as sleep,
Sweet and cold your state you keep
In a careless crowd:
Crocuses that over-gild
Close-cropt lawn and open field,
Snowdrop in her shroud;
Snowy tulips, crystal thin,
Budding prickles of the whin,
Pale anemone;
Yellow tulips, bubble-clear
Lilac, thrift, may all be dear
As they're fair to see;
Primrose pale and violet,
These I yield without regret,
Sweet though they may be:
Homely sage and snowdrop chill,
Laurel leaf and daffodil:
Hyacinths for me.

A SOCIAL ADVISER
By Josephine H. Nichols.

"FOR kingdom come, Miss Mary, run here, quick!" Priscilla's agonized tones sent me flying to the library, where I found her mounted on the top step of the stepladder, armed with the long-handled brush, with which she had been polishing the countenance of my ancestors. Her eyes, I observed, were stretched to twice their natural size.

"What on earth is the matter?" I asked.

"Matter enough, chile. Dis ole ladder is powerful onarsain, an' jist now when I wuz dustin' ole Marster's pieter, hit 'peared ter me, he kinder smiled at me, same like ez he useter do, an' I wuz dat skeered I pretty nigh tumbled off."

I looked at the portrait of my stately old grandfather and frowned; Priscilla's love of sensation was apt to carry her far, but until now she had respected my relatives.

"Don't be absurd," I said, crushingly, and instead of holding the ladder, as I was evidently expected to do, I crossed the room and retired to the shelter of the window seat.

Priscilla, however, was not easily subdued; indeed, I had often confided to Fred that in my mind she had all the qualifications of a social leader—supreme self-confidence and a magnificent capacity for ignoring snubs; so, having successfully inveigled me into the library, after a moment's silence, she proceeded smoothly:

"Mr. Fred's the livin' borned image of ole marster; I sez ter Hinery yistidday: 'Hinery,' sez I, 'if Mr. Fred wuz ez ole ez his gran'pa, I clar ter gracious I couldn't know de diffrence between 'em.'"

Her conversational efforts fell unheeded on my ears, for I did not reply, but continued to stare out of the window at the vivid sweep of live oak branches beyond.

Priscilla climbed down and moved the ladder before a portrait of my mother.

"Lor," she said, passing the brush carefully over the lovely young face, "Lor, Miss Mary, I 'members yore ma's weddin' day jist like hit wuz yistidday: she sholy wuz a beauty, an' young, too, only 19 when she married Marse Ralph." She paused and looked over at me.

"Miss Mary, hucome you ain't never married?"

"That is my own affair," I replied, sternly.

"I 'lows you had lots of chances. Modeste Powler sez Betty Green (Betty was my maid) tole her you done los' de count of de gemman what axed you ter marry 'em." Of course it was despicably weak of me, but I felt my heart warm towards Betty. "She sezes how you wuz a jinnine belle when you lived in de city."

"Did she, indeed?" I said, feigning an indifference that I was far from feeling; "that was certainly kind of her."

"But ef you ain't never felt no leanin' todes marryin', Miss Mary, you done right ter stay single, an' I reckon when you count hit all up, you hez done choosed de better part."

I laughed. "That is rather hard on Henry, Priscilla."

"Hinery is a good husban' ez husbans go, Miss Mary," she said, "but when a 'ooman marries she ain't free no longer; she's bleeget ter insult anoder pusson about everyting, an' deres times when dat gits kinder tiresome like."

I did not tell Priscilla so, but in a crude way she had expressed my own objections to matrimony.

"I wuz young and foolish in dose days," she went on, "an' he wuz de bes' dancer an' de bes' fiddler on de plantation, an' de oder nigger gals wuz fairly wild ter ketch him, an' I 'lowed ez I warn't gwine ter let 'em git ahead of me, so when Hinery axed me, I ups an' sez 'yes' fore I knowed what I wuz doin'."

"Well, he has made you a good husban'," I said. "Mr. Fred thinks a great deal of Henry."

Priscilla pursed up her lips; her expression conveyed the idea that she could tell much "an' she would," but aloud she only said:

"Ise got money hid up, Miss Mary; I reckon hits wuth while fur Hinery ter be consartin' hisself kerrect wid me; my ole mother (bless her) sez ter me de night I wuz married, 'Sylla,' sez she, 'don' you never let Hinery git hole of what you earns; he'll respect you ef you hez money of your own,' an' Miss Mary, chile, I ain't never forgot dem words of advice; she wuz a good 'ooman, my mother wuz."

Poor Henry, thought I.

"Dere's no use talkin', Miss Mary, ef you wants ter hev peace yonse bleeget ter take a stan' frum de dust. Now deres Hinery, you wouldn't think it now, but he wuz ez skittish ez a colt when I married him."

"I certainly wouldn't have thought so," I replied devoutly, remembering the meek-faced little man who called Priscilla wife.

Hinery sholy wuz mannish, Miss

Mary, but I tuk hit all out of him de fast year we wuz married," and she chuckled appreciatively.

As I betrayed no wild interest in Priscilla's matrimonial difficulties, she proceeded to change the subject with an abruptness that was startling.

"Miss Mary," said she, with the frank impertinence of an old servant, "is Mr. Hugh Raney your beau?"

"Of course not!" I replied, rapidly; "he's a friend of Mr. Fred's."

"A fren' of Mr. Fred's?" she repeated, thoughtfully; "a mighty good fren', sence he comes ter see him twice a week an' sometimes oftener."

I did not answer.

"I 'member Mr. Hugh when he warn't much bigger'n my Benjie. He's down-right hansom', Mr. Hugh is, but he ain't much of a talker, is he? Ter tell you de trufe, Miss Mary, I 'lows ez you talks too much ter Mr. Hugh; you gits him kinder flappazzled, an' you don't give him a chance ter git a word in idgewise."

I stared at Priscilla in speechless indignation.

"De oder night I wuz in de hall fixin' de lamps, an' I tuk notis dat you did all de talkin'. Mr. Hugh laffed an' laffed, but he ain't never ascertained no subject fur hisself."

"Priscilla," said I with flaming cheeks, "I wish you would go on with your dustin'."

"Prisently, Miss Mary, prisently, but I hez had hit in my mind fur a long time ter tell you dis (you ain't got no mother, Miss Mary, chile), and I 'se 'bleeged ter cend hit. I 'members hearin' Miss Alice say once (she an' your ma wuz in de garden under de orange trees); sez she, 'Kate,' sez she, 'when I likes a man I never talks, kase hit pleases me ter listen, an' when I don't like him I holes my tongue souse he kin say all he hez in his mind right quick, den I gits a chance fur ter git rid of him.'"

I got up and sauntered out of the room, pretending indifference, but in reality Priscilla's suggestion was by no means lost upon me. Hugh Raney was a thorn in my path, and from all appearances he intended to continue one indefinitely. I had known him as a child, and upon my return to the plantation, after my mother's death, he had taken up the old friendship where we dropped it, years before. A slim, dark fellow, with a ready laugh, but absolutely no conversation, he called often and again at Southmeade, boring me to extinction and furnishing Fred with a never-ending material for teasing. It was true, as Priscilla complained, that I did all the talking, when he came to see me, but if I had not, I felt sure that we would have sat and gazed at each other in solemn silence. But Aunt Alice's maxim, in Priscilla's language, set me to thinking, and to such purpose that when Fred knocked at my door that evening with the facetious information that "my little playmate" was waiting for me in the study, I went out to meet him, resolved to try the magic effects of silence. The result was startling in the extreme. After one or two fruitless attempts to "lead me out," and finding me absolutely unresponsive, Hugh pulled his chair closer to mine and proceeded to "entertain" me for the first time in his life. My dullness seemed to stimulate him, for the quieter I became the merrier he grew. Whether he attributed my apathy to sudden self-consciousness or appreciation of the situation, I do not know, but before very long he launched into a personal conversation of a type he had never before attempted. Priscilla could no longer complain that "he never ascertained no subject," for he "ascertained" so much in a comparatively short time that he gave me ample food for reflection.

Priscilla met me with my lamp just after he had gone, and the expression of satisfaction on her features was difficult to ignore. I did so, however, and went yawning off to bed after first reproaching Fred bitterly for not coming in.

Well, the story is soon told. My caller, finding me so unusually pensive and thoughtful, became so emboldened that after several visits he gave me an opportunity to answer definitely, whether or not he found favor in my sight. It was hard to convince him that he did not, but after the use of a good deal of plain and earnest English I finally persuaded him that I was really possessed of such bad taste, and a few minutes later he rushed out of my presence, sprang onto his horse and rode furiously away.

It must have been half an hour after that Priscilla came into the library and found me staring into an empty hearth.

"Hucome you let de fire go out?" she asked, reprovingly.

"I did not notice it," I answered; "I was thinking of something else."

She chuckled: "I reckon you bleeves now, Miss Mary, dat Miss Alice knowed what she wuz talkin' about."

"What do you mean?" I demanded.

She looked at me quizzically.

"Priscilla," suddenly recalling a noise I had heard in the book closet adjoining the study; "Priscilla, can it be that you were in yonder listening?"

"Miss Mary," replied Priscilla, falling into a dramatic attitude, "don't you be gittin' flamagations against me; Ise too ole ter be treated like dat! 'Sides, chile, assumin' an air of righteous indignation, 'ain't you tole me ter straighten up dose books? An' ef Ise wucked so hard all day an' kant 'fin' time ter do it twell now, is you gwine ter git mad about dat? I done what you tole me an' ef,' breaking into an irresistible smile, "I heard what I warn't findin' fur ter heer, Lor knows, Miss Mary, hit wuz jist what I 'spicioned I would heer ef I listened; but de trufe is, chile, I oughter bin in bade hours ago, stid of sittin' up like dis, jist ter make sartin of somethin' what I knowed already."—Detroit Free Press.

FREEDOM RESTORED.

A Farmer's Kindness to an Eagle He Had Seen Before.

He Paid Two Dollars for the Bird and Felt Repaid When He Saw Him Wing His Way Back to the Mountains.

There was an interested crowd before a large glass front, says the Whittier of California. Everybody that came along stopped either to make inquiries or elbowed in toward the window to see what the attraction was. Inside was a magnificent white-headed eagle. There was a chain from its right foot to a huge piece of iron, some water in a pan, an untouched piece of fish, a few soda, and a large card with the words "For Sale."

The big bird's wings drooped, on either side, to its feet. Its eyes were glazed and dim-looking. It opened and shut them now and then, but never once turned them to the jostling, noisy crowd that stood just outside the glass. There were no marks of violence to be seen, but the dull, pathetic eyes, the drooping wings, the soiled white about the head, and the ruffled feathers over the body showed that the captive had been in chains much longer than it had been in the window.

One of the crowd in the street was a sturdy young farmer who had come into town early that morning. He had pushed his way to the front and stood looking in silence for a long time at the great, helpless bird. He was sure he had seen it before. It had been captured, he learned from what some of the crowd said, in the country from which he had come. That settled it; it was the same bird.

He had seen it on the mountain where he sometimes had hunted for stray sheep. He knew the big pine in the top of which it had its nest. He had noted its soaring majestically and free about him as he worked in the valley, and had seen it sit motionless for hours on the top of some tall, distant rumpkin. Now and then he had had a suspicion that it had carried off an occasional lamb, and had more than once tried to shoot the bird, but had never succeeded in getting near enough.

The young farmer elbowed his way along the window to the door of the store; then he went in.
"What d'ye want for that bird?" he said.
"I'd like to buy 'im."
"Two dollars," was the reply.
"Very well; I'll take 'im."

He paid over the money and the bird was handed out to him.
The crowd at the window watched eagerly as the farmer came out with the big eagle under his arm, and went straight across the street to where a ladder leaned against a billboard that was some ten or twelve feet high. At the foot of the ladder he stopped and took the chain from the bird's leg; then he went slowly up and placed his old friend—or enemy, he was not sure which, but no difference—on the top of the billboard, and came down.

The great bird had been a prisoner for so long that it seemed for a time to have forgotten how to be free. It sat for awhile as it had sat in the window. But gradually it came to itself. It tilted first one drooping wing and tucked it closely to its side, then the other. It raised itself slowly to its full height, and stretched out its great head toward the sky. The dullness went out of the eyes, and a fierce new light flashed in; then, nervously stretching out its huge pinions on either side and taking a step or two forward, it rose with a hoarse scream and swept out toward the sun.

A burst of applause from the crowd met the farmer as he recrossed the street.
"I had seen him on the mountain," he said, "and I couldn't bear to see him there." He pointed to the window; then, in a moment, he was gone.

French Count as Cabman.
The Vienna correspondent of the Matin telegraphs a romantic story of fallen nobility. A cab driver, who was known by the name of Martin, has just died, and facts which have come to light since his decease show that he was the last descendant of a French nobleman, who emigrated at the time of the revolution, and that he bore the title of Count Maurice de St. Martin. Since their expatriation the family suffered great vicissitudes, and was ultimately reduced to penury. The immediate antecedent of the cab driver was an officer in the Austrian army, who left 14 children, of whom Count Maurice was the last-known survivor.

Hairpin in a Cow.
A post-mortem examination of a cow which died at Sheerness, England, showed that a lady's hairpin, six inches in length, was embedded in the animal's heart.

DEFENDED HIS FLOCK.

Aged Colored Preacher in Kansas City Uses a Revolver to Quiet a Gang of Toughs.

The Kansas City Times reports that the other night there was a special religious service going on at the Mount Zion Negro Baptist church. The preacher had warmed to his theme and the sinners were flocking to the altar and shouting "hallelujah," as only negroes can flock and shout, when a ponderous crash was heard in the neighborhood of the third row of pews from the pulpit on the south side of the building. It was followed by another and yet another, each stronger than its predecessor, and it began to look as if the services would have to be stopped, but Preacher Allen, old and gray, decrepit and trembling, arose to the emergency. He hobbled out of the door just in time to receive a healthy-looking stone on the top of his gray head. His old cap-and-ball revolver was in the bureau drawer at his little cabin just back of the church, he remembered, and he hurried there and secured it.

"Now, come on, yo' pooh white trash brats," he yelled, in words of ginger, as he stood in his doorway with his pistol in his hand. A brick whizzed past his head and tore off part of the rickety old door in answer. Without saying another word the old fellow emptied his pistol at his tormentors, a well-organized crowd of white boys, some 20 strong, who were entrenched on a small hill beneath which the church and the little cabin rest. Some one of the boys fired at the old pastor three times, and then they ran, leaving him the field. The church was deserted, and negro brothers and sisters scattered in all directions. When the police patrol wagon arrived with a squad of officers Deacon Allen was still standing in his doorway with the reloaded pistol in his hands. He was not arrested, but the police are looking for Charles Kerns and Bill Murray, who are known to be the ringleaders of the "Penn Street Avengers," as the gang calls itself.

STOPPED FOR GAME.

Minnesota Railroad Train Conductor Pulled the Cord and the Whole Crew Went Hunting.

Every man you see in Minnesota in game season carries a gun or keeps one handy. The Minnesota man who tells this story says he heard that country preachers go prepared.
"When game does flash up on you in Minnesota," he said, "it is worth shooting at. No matter where a man may be in that state, or what he may be doing, he will be excused if he is seen to pick up a gun and make a break. The natives understand it."
"The last time I was out there I was sitting in the baggage car of a train talking to the conductor, whom I knew very well. He asked me when I knew in where my gun was, and I had to apologize for not having it. I forgot the custom. Then I asked him if there was any apprehension about train robbers. Just then he jumped from a trunk, grabbed the bell cord until I thought he must have jerked the locomotive from the track. The train came to a stand as quickly as was possible, and the conductor, seizing a shotgun from a rack, jumped from the door of the car and told me to follow. As I did so I saw several brakemen, the baggage man and the engineer on the ground. Every one of them had a shotgun. The conductor was in the lead. Suddenly there was a noise. A flock of prairie chickens—there must have been 100—rose in the air. At the same instant the air was blue with smoke and scented with powder. Eighty dead prairie chickens were found, but the conductor assured me that the whole flock had been killed, and that some had probably dropped in the brush."

English Hunter.

Combined bay stallion, 16 hands high, sired by Abdallah Messenger, he by Messenger Chief, sire of Maud Messenger 2:16 1/4.
English Hunter's dam by Denny's Drennon, he by Imported Drennon.
I will stand English Hunter the season of 1898, at my stable three miles from Shelby City, on the Knob Lick and Turnersville pike at $5 to insure a living colt, money due when colt is foaled or mare parted with.

BOB TAIL.

I will also stand one fine Jack 15 hands 1 inch high, weighs 1000 pounds, black with white points. Sired by the great Champion Jack, Tom Kine, whose reputation as a breeder is known far and near.
Bob Tail's dam by Levi Hubble's Prince. Remember Prince was the sire of Joe Blackburn, an old rival, which Mr. Hubble could have sold at one time for $4,000. Joe Blackburn alone brought $1,900 at the sale.
Bob Tail will make the season of 1898 at $5 to insure a living colt.
B. F. POWELL.

EAGLE: BIRD.

THE GREAT SHOW STALLION
Winner of $500 stake at Lexington, won second money in $500 stake at Versailles, winner of the aged premium and sweepstake at Paris, also winner of other premiums in 1895, since which time he has been in the stud.
Eagle Bird is a beautiful brown, with small star, stands over 16 hands, has a flowing mane and a heavy tail.
Eagle Bird was sired by King Eagle, winner of more than 40 blue ties.
1st dam by Star Eagle, best son of Cabell's Lexington.
2nd dam by Hamlet Denmark, son of Washington Denmark.
3rd dam by Harris' Denmark, son of Miller's Denmark.
Eagle Bird will make the season of 1898 at his stable 2 miles West of Stanford on the Shelby City pike at the extremely low price of
$10 TO INSURE A LIVING COLT.

Money or cash note will be required when a living colt is foaled.
Gilt Edge is one of the greatest show horses in Kentucky, as his record in 1893 will attest. As a breeder of fine, good colored, high styled colts he is unsurpassed.
Mares from a distance will be furnished grass after May 1 at $1.50 per month and must be paid at the removal of the mares.
Care will be taken to prevent accidents and escapes, but will not be responsible should any occur. Paying with or removal of mares forfeits the insurance.
E. F. WOODS, Stanford, Ky.

Good Squirrel,

Beautiful Chestnut Furrel; no white. Sired by the renowned Black Squirrel (the greatest sire of faggy priced saddlers living).
First dam Josie Umber No. 945, by On Time, No. 745.
Second dam by Stonewall Jackson 72.
Third dam by King William 67.
Fourth dam by Cythian, thoroughbred.
Fifth dam by Oliver, thoroughbred.
Good Squirrel is a very fine chestnut sorrel colt with fine mane and tail, which he carries as near perfection as a horse can. He has been very successful in show rings, having been shown 16 times in 1897 and 1897 and won 15 blues and one red, and the only time he was defeated was by Thorntor. Star. He has fine, high action in all his gaits—rack, trot, walk and canter. This colt is no stand-still, halter-shown horse, but when you put a saddle on him he is as good as they grow. You can see by his pedigree he is a very fancy and highly bred colt and one that will sire fancy, high-acting, high-tailed saddlers, the kind that sell. He will serve a few mares at my farm four miles from Danville on Danville & Stanford pike at
$10 to insure a living colt

NOTE.—A lien retained on all colts until season is paid, and when a man sells, gives or disposes of his mare in any way, the season falls due. See this colt before you breed
A. E. HUNDLEY, DANVILLE, KY.

SAMBO.

I will stand my fine young Jack, Sambo, at my stable near Moreland this season at $3 to insure a living colt.
Sambo is by Joe Blackburn, Jr., dam Sam Rout's imported Jennet. He is 15 1/2 hands high; fine bone and has proven to be a sure foot getter. Parties interested can see two of his colts at my place. As I believe that I have an extraordinary good nule Jack I make this low price, in order that the people generally may become acquainted with his breeding.
At my place on Saturday, Sept. 3, 1898, I will give $5 in gold for the best colt by him.
Also Jumbo, a fine 2-year-old black Jack, 15 hands high, will serve a few good mares free. I will also at the same place and day give $2.50 in gold for his best colt.
B. B. KING, Moreland, Ky.

NABOTH 10,016.

Standard Rule 6. Record 2:19 1/4. Sired by Walsingham 2:16 1/4, sire of Latitude 2:17 1/4, and many others in the list. Walsingham, Naboth's sire, is a son of George Wilkes 5:19. First dam Tinsel, by Messenger Ducoc 106, son of Hambletonian and sire of Elaine 2:20. The dam of Norlaine, yearling record 2:31 1/4.
Second dam Bess, sister to James Howell, Jr., by Hambletonian 10, sire of Dexter 2:17 1/4.
Third dam Jessie Sayre, by Harry Clay 45, sire of the dams of St. Julian 2:11 1/4. Bodine 2:19 1/4 and 15 others that have produced 2:30 trotters; also sire of the dam of Electioneer.
Fourth dam by Liberty, son of Lance, by American Eclipse.
NOTE.—Naboth is a bay, 16 hands high, foaled June 28, 1888. His pedigree contains blood of Hambletonian, George Wilkes, Mambrino Wilkes, Pilot Jr., and Harry Clay.

Will Stand at $15 To Insure a Living Colt.

I will also stand
FIVE FINE JACKS AT ONLY $5 EACH.

Will make no charge for season if the colt proves not to be salable at selling time. Mares grazed at $2 per month, which in all cases must be paid before they are taken away. Care taken to prevent accidents but not responsible should any occur.

J. K. BAUGHMAN, Hustonville, Ky.

OGDENSBURG 8787.

Record 2:28 1/2, trial 2:22. Chestnut stallion, 15 1/2 hands high, bred by Dr. L. Herr, Lexington, Ky.
By Mambrino Patchen 59.
Sire of 25, of the dams of 130, including Ralph Wilkes, 2:06 3/4, Crawford, 2:07 3/4, Constantine, 2:12 1/4, etc., by Middle town 152, dam Nellie Post (dam of Orange Bud 2:21 1/4, by American Star 14, etc.)
ORANGE BLOSSOM 238, sire of Orange Chief 2:13 1/4, eight others and the dams of Red Blossom 2:24 1/4, etc., by Middle town 152, dam Nellie Post (dam of Orange Bud 2:21 1/4, by American Star 14, etc.)
I will stand at $10 to insure a living colt.

NOTE.—Ogdenburg is an extremely handsome stallion with all the form, finish and style of his famous family. With the exception of Mambrino King he is undoubtedly the handsomest son of Mambrino Patchen. He is a sure and very fine breeder and marks his get with great uniformity as regards finish, style, good looks and pure gait. He has a good disposition, any one can handle and drive him. He is one of the purest gaited horses in the world and is capable of trotting much faster than his record. He has his speed with him always and is an easy horse to get in condition. He has trotted miles in 2:22 and quarters in 33 seconds. All the training he ever had in his life would not amount to six months. He obtained his record when a four-year-old over a muddy track at New Albany, Ind., hitched to an old fashioned high wheeled sulky against a field of aged horses. He won the race in three straight heats. He is very level-headed, afraid of nothing. He is a show horse as well as a trotter. Has been shown at some of the best fairs in Kentucky and Indiana and has won a number of premiums. (Has won a number of sweepstake premiums.)

Will Also Stand A Good Jack At $8 To Insure A Living Colt.
M. S. BAUGHMAN, Stanford, Ky.

Gilt Edge 261.

REGISTERED.
By SECOND JEWEL. This fancy saddle stallion will make season of 1898 at our stable 1/4 mile from Milledgeville, on the Stanford & Milledgeville pike. Owing to the scarcity of money we will stand him
At $10 to insure a living C. It.

Money due when colt comes or mare parted with. Mares grazed or fed at reasonable rates. Not responsible for accidents should any occur.
Gilt Edge is a beautiful red sorrel, flaxy mane and tail, 15 1/2 hands high, was foaled Sept. 6, 1886, and is a perfect saddle horse. He was shown as a 3-year-old and took the sweepstake premium at Kirksville and Danville and in his own ring at Harrodsburg. Those wanting to breed to a good saddle stallion are cordially invited to look at our horse and see him move.
He was sired by Second Jewel, he by Cunningham's Jewel, he by old Washington Denmark. Gilt Edge's first dam Minnie, by McDonald's Hairoorn, 2nd dam by Wolfe's Crusader, his first dam by Stonewall Jackson, he by Washington Denmark, he by Black Denmark, his first dam by Crusader, he by Old Whip, 2nd dam a Rocky Mountain mare.
MADISON SANDIDGE & SON,
Milledgeville, Ky.

I will stand in Crab Orchard the season of 1898.

CONCREGAN.

Bay, 16 hands, by Ten Broeck. First dam by Fellow Play. He combines the blood of Glencoe, Lexington and Phaeton. He is greatly in make like his famous sire, whose three mile record has only been beaten by his son, Drake Carter, a full brother of Concregan. He is well put up, has the muscles and quarters of all the best descendants of Lexington and formerly made the season at $20. Owing to the times I will stand him at
$5 to insure a living colt.

I will also stand the fine young Jack,

CLINTON, JR.,

By Clinton, he by Beecher, ne by Prince, 2nd, he by Prince, 1st, an imported Jack, owned by Adams & Alford. Dam a fine Jennet owned by Allen & Beatty, of Clinton Co. He will make the season at

$7 to Insure a Living Colt

Care taken to prevent accidents but not responsible should any occur.

C. H. SINGLETON,
CRAB ORCHARD, KY.

BLACK CLOUD

I will stand on my farm one mile north of Hustonville, on the Hustonville and Danville turnpike, my Jack, Black Cloud,
At $5 to insure a living colt.
Black Cloud is black with mealy points, 15 hands 3 inches high and four years old, bred by W. M. Burke, of Boyle County, sired by Burke's old Jack, Tom Keene.
A full brother to Black Cloud was sold about four years ago to California parties for $2,000.
J. A. WRIGHT, Moreland, Ky.

LINCOLN KING,

Sired by King Chester, he by Chester Dare, he by Black Squirrel. King Chester's dam Black Bess, by Bourbon Blue. Lincoln King's dam by Silver King, 2nd dam by Gray Eagle, 3rd dam by Copperbottom, 4th dam a thoroughbred. Lincoln King is a rich bay, full 16 hands, and has heavy mane and tail. He is four years old and No. 1 saddle horse. Will stand at the low price of
$8.00 To Insure A Living Colt.

I will also stand my fine, 2-year-old Jack,

RICHARD BIBB,

On the same terms as Lincoln King. He will serve a limited number of mares. He is black, with mealy points and has fine bone and action.

NOTE.—Lincoln King's dam was the dam of W. L. Evans' great show mare, Huma, and his granddam produced as many winners as any mare in the country.
Mares grazed at $2 per month. Care taken to prevent accident but not responsible should any occur.

W. H. MURPHY, Stanford, Ky.

Dorsey Goldust,

Standard, No. 10,022.
Solid dark bay, 16 hands and weighs 1,200 lbs. Full brother to Estelle 2:19 1/2, untrained, but speedy. A tested breeder of combined Roadsters and Eastern horses of superior action, size, style and speed. A class of horses that sell readily for good prices. Will make the present season at $10 To Insure A Living Colt.

Roscoe, A Good Jack, at $5 to Insure Colt.

Young Pedro 46961, A. J. C. C.
The labred young Pedro Bull A. J. C. C., No. 45,961, by old Pedro No. 3,387—the King of all Jerseys—that cost $10,000 and has to his credit 35 tested daughters with records that average over 18 lbs, and grand sire of 80 tested daughters, 40 averaging 17 lbs-12 oz.
Young Pedro's dam Infanta Pedro Majoram, premium cow at World's Fair, and test of 17 lbs, 6 oz, in seven days with first calf. This young Bull can boast of a combination of better producing qualities unexcelled if equalled. With every cross tested he combines the blood of the World's Fair Champion Pedro, Stokopis 5th, the great Eurotas 22 lbs, 7 oz, Imp. Matilda, 17 lbs, and her daughter Matilda 4th 21 lbs 8 1/2 oz. Majoram 2nd, 15 lbs on grass alone and her illustrious dam Imported Majoram, 16 lbs, also the best bred Victor Hugo bull Lorne, 5 1/2 lbs, and coming as they do through champions so near this young bull's pedigree, adding on both sides in heavy butter makers and prize winners, there can be no question as to his capacity as a producer of superior milkers and butter cows.
Service Fee $5.

MRS. N. G. TEVIS, who has been with her sister, Mrs. Alice Cloyd, for several months, started on her return to Missoula, Mont., yesterday morning.

MISS CHRISTINE BRADLEY, the governor's pretty daughter, wants to go with the 1st Kentucky as nurse and so does Miss Alice Castleman, of Louisville.

MISS BETTIE EDMISTON, of Crab Orchard, took the train here for Lexington yesterday. She was accompanied by Dr. Welby Bargin, of Richmond.

REV. S. M. RANKIN and Mr. George D. Wearen are attending the Presbytery at Springfield. Mrs. Rankin is in Louisville during her husband's absence.

CAPT. AND MRS. W. J. HOWELL, C. D. King and wife, R. D. Thompson and wife, R. M. Hocker and many others, of Lebanon Junction, attended the burial of Capt. Eaton.

MR. THOMAS DALTON, of Hustonville, brought his wife down Wednesday to take a course of treatment at the Joseph Price Infirmary. Her health is bad, but her looks do not indicate it.

It seems that the honor of being the first volunteer belongs to Mr. Frank Lusk, of Hustonville, instead of the gentleman to whom it was given in our last issue. We salute the young patriot.

MRS. J. R. MOUNT, of LaGrange, and Mr. and Mrs. J. T. McRoberts, of Pineville, who spent several days with Mr. and Mrs. H. J. McRoberts, left Wednesday for Lancaster to visit relatives.

CAPT. B. F. POWELL, who served gallantly in the war for the preservation of the union, wants to raise a company in this county to fight the Spaniards and avenge the cruel murder of the sailors of the Maine.

MISS MAMIE LYNN and Marie Warren, who have been attending the Normal School at Lebanon, O., returned Tuesday night, their return being hastened by the desire to bid their gallant brothers good-bye before they leave for the war.

FOLLOWING are the names of the beautiful young ladies who have been selected as delegates to the Old Maid's Convention on the 3rd: Misses Essie Burch, Mattie Vandever, Mary Bruce, Pearl Burnside, Mattie Elkin, Bessie Burnside, Mary Elkin, Bessie Menefee, Annie Bronaugh Engleman, Sue and Bessie Woods, Katie Lee Yeager, Lena Bruce, Janie Feland, Clara Mer-shon, Mary Phillips, Maggie Noel, Janie Wearen, Lillie Peyton and one other who desires her name withheld.
